

Active Hutch

Unlock humanity with all-in-one storage spaces that do more than just store.

The Active Hutch is an innovative piece of furniture that can act as dividers between workstations and zones. It's like your all-in-one storage area with a little something extra to soothe your senses.

This unit offers the option for open shelving, lockable doors or a combination of both. Planter boxes can be added on top to include biophilic elements or you may prefer metal framed open shelving to create an airy sense of separating zones. For those needing to accommodate changing environments, the Active Hutch can also be made on mobile castors offering greater flexibility in the modern workplace.

This versatile piece of commercial furniture truly lives up to its name.
